

I CAN FEEL YOU, HOLY SPIRIT

Lyrics: Phil Thomson

All the dreams and arguments
I have used to keep my distance I lay down in sweet surrender there will be no more resistance -

From the fountain of your mercy where joy and glory reign the blood and breath of Jesus is flowing through my veins

I want you to know I can feel you
I want you to know I can feel you
I want you to know I can feel you
Holy Spirit

Every single part of me every fibre of my being touched with perfect passion joy at what my heart is seeing -

With every falling teardrop the Father's smile breaks through I hear you singing through the whisper of a soul in love with you

I want you to know ...

Divine ground is stirring in the still beat of my heart I hear the sound I will call your presence down

I want you to know ...

I want you to know I can feel you
I want you to know I can feel you I want you to know I expect you all my waking and my sleeping hours
